What Is a Sprain?

A sprain is a stretch and/or tear of a ligament (a band of fibrous tissue that connects two or more bones at a joint). One or more ligaments can be injured at the same time. The severity of the injury will depend on the extent of injury (whether a tear is partial or complete) and the number of ligaments involved.

K2 Health Products

NEW! Compressed Premium Foam Cushions

Compression technology works as follows: First, cushions are compressed while in a plastic film to remove most of the air. Next, the film is sealed to keep the air from returning. Finally the compressed cushion is rolled into a tubular shape to further reduce its size and footprint. The resulting package is up to 68% smaller than comparable products and is also more Eco-Friendly. Cushions expand to size when opened.

Cho-Pat®

"Original" Knee Strap

Provides symptomatic relief of acute and chronic pain. The strap functions dynamically as the knee bends and straightens. Pressure on the tendon below the kneecap helps guide the kneecap in the groove, improving tracking and helping spread pressure uniformly over the surface area. It also elevates the knee slightly, further relieving pressure. Tricot-covered 1/4" foam strap with Velcro® closures in the back. Strap should not be worn to bed. Size: measure leg circumference just below kneecap.
